With at least three music teachers for every instrument, we are confident that we have the right teacher to meet your music lesson needs.

Music recitals

Every parent wants to know how their child is doing and if they are progressing. Recitals are the best way for parents to understand if their investment in lessons is worth it. This is a great place to learn the foundation of music and advance your knowledge! The teacher are nice and welcoming, I would not and do not hesitate to recommend anyone to this facility! -Leah M.

The United Conservatory of Music is a great place to learn music. Over the past few weeks, I've learned so much from my instructor. He has taught me advanced playing methods, and how to master the basics. The Conservatory has taught me what it's like to work with other student musicians, and how to come out of my playing shell. And I would definitely recommend string musicians to take lessons here. -Alexander M.

I love this place!!! They have amazing music teachers who are very passionate in what they do. My daughter is very happy with her cello teacher and we are so glad we found him. -Sheilla R.
